

Medallion Wealth Advisors LLC (MWA) – Client Relationship Summary

Effective July 1, 2021

Our firm, Medallion Wealth Advisors (referred to as “MWA” “we”, “our” or “us”) is registered with the Securities Exchange Commission (“SEC”) as an investment adviser. We offer investment advisory services to retail investors and our Financial Advisors also offer brokerage services through an unaffiliated SEC Registered broker-dealer, American Portfolios Financial Services, Inc. (“APFS”). We feel that it is important for clients such as you (referred to as “you”, “clients” or our “investors”) to understand how advisory and brokerage services and their associated fees differ in order to determine which type of account is right for you.

What Investment Services and Advice Can You Provide Me? Our Financial Advisors provide investment advisory services as Investment Advisor Representatives of MWA and brokerage services as registered representatives of APFS. Brokerage services and investment advisory services are different and the fees we, and APFS, charge for those services are different. You are encouraged to learn more about APFS by reviewing the client relationship summary for APFS and having a discussion with us. You can also access free and simple tools to help you research firms and financial professionals at www.investor.gov/CRS, which also provides educational materials about broker-dealers, investment advisers, and investing.

We provide investment management services to individuals and their trusts and estates and non-profit organizations. We manage portfolios based on each client’s unique investment objectives, risk tolerance, investment time horizon, withdrawal requirements and other special circumstances. While the underlying securities within client accounts are continually monitored, these accounts are reviewed quarterly and make changes to them as we deem necessary.

We manage portfolios on a discretionary basis, which means we have the authority to buy and sell investments in your account without speaking to you prior to doing so. You can place reasonable restrictions on the securities that we buy by notifying us in writing.

We do not have to limit the scope of the universe of securities that we use in managing client accounts. However, we generally construct and manage portfolios containing a blend of mutual funds and exchange traded funds (“ETFs”) that we perceive as low-cost, across a broad spectrum of equity, fixed income and alternative asset classes. In some limited circumstances we may incorporate individual equity or fixed income securities, or use option strategies.

Additional services may include any, or all, of the following: financial planning, estate planning and wealth transfer, tax planning, and business succession planning. When we provide those services, we rely upon the information clients provide and do not verify or monitor it. For more detailed information about our advisory business and the types of clients we generally service, please see Items 4 and 7, respectively in our Form ADV Part 2A.

Questions for your Professional: Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? How will you choose investments to recommend to me? What is your relevant experience? Please explain what licenses you hold, what education you have taken, what other qualifications you have achieved and what that means to me?

What fees will I pay? Investing is an individual journey, and we want to provide you with options. Below we outline the fees you could be charged for advisory services.

- For investment advisory services, we typically charge an ongoing quarterly fee (sometimes referred to as an asset-based fee). This fee is a percentage of the value of your account. You pay this fee even if you don’t buy or sell investments. The more assets you have in an asset-based fee account, the more you will pay in fees. This creates an incentive to encourage you to increase the size of your account, including by transferring or rolling over assets from other accounts. For some types of accounts, there is a per transaction charge in addition to an asset-based fee. We may also charge an hourly fee or fixed fee for additional services such as financial planning and consulting services that are of limited duration or nature.

- For wrap fee program accounts, you will pay us a single asset-based fee for advisory services. This fee also covers most transaction costs and certain administrative and custodial costs associated with your investments.
- The fee you pay to your professional is generally negotiated with him or her directly, and subject to different maximums, depending on the advisory program selected.

Other Fees and Costs If applicable to your account, the custodian will charge you directly for other fees in addition to brokerage commissions and advisory fees, including: (1) account maintenance fees such as custody, trade confirmation processing, corporate actions, and transfer fees; (2) cash management fees such as cash sweep, checking, and wire fees; and (3) investment specific fees such as those for administration of alternative investments or for foreign securities. See the Fee Schedule for your custodian for more information. You should understand that these fees are not charged by us if your investment is in an account.

You may also incur fees charged by the particular investment product in which you are invested, including mutual funds, ETFs, and other pooled funds, in addition to advisory fees charged by us. You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.

Questions for your Professional: Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when providing recommendations when acting as my investment advisor? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have? When we act as your investment advisor, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interest ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts because they can affect the investment advice we provide. Potential conflicts of interest could include:

- For fee-based advisory accounts; the more money you invest, the more compensation we earn.
- We may recommend a particular custodian from whom we receive support services. This presents a conflict of interest, because our receipt of their support makes us inclined to continue using and recommending them.
- Our recommendation to utilize Charles Schwab as a custodian because of their quality products and services may benefit both you and MWA.
- Our financial professionals may hold insurance licenses; this may result in additional compensation.
- We may recommend rollovers out of employer-sponsored retirement plans and into individual retirement accounts that we manage for an asset-fee. If we don't currently manage your account held with your employer's plan, this will increase our compensation.

How do your financial professionals make money? Our financial professionals are compensated based on the fees our firm earns from their advisory services or recommendations, and the time and complexity required to meet a client's needs.

Do you or your financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history? No, neither our firm nor our financial professionals have any legal or disciplinary history to disclose. Visit www.investor.gov/CRS for a free and simple search tool to research our firm and our professionals.
